

May day

Here's hoping the opening of the new May Street Studios in St Peters will herald the emergence of some striking new artistic talent in Sydney. A vibrant space in a converted garment factory, the studios are now home to more than a dozen artists, including Vanessa Ashcroft, Denise Campbell, Philippa Joyce and Enrique de Val. To celebrate, there'll be an exhibition next Saturday, 1-4pm, to showcase the works of resident artists, opened by Sydney painter Cash Brown.